

NGUYEN HUU TUONG – KHON KAEN UNIVERSITY (THAILAND)

My name is Nguyen Huu Tuong, an alumnus of Advanced Biotechnology Class Session 34 (2008 – 2013), Biotechnology R&D Institute, Can Tho University. I am studying Master's program in Food Safety and Quality Management at Faculty of Technology, Khon Kaen University, Thailand.

My research will focus on application of lactic acid bacteria strains in food producing and preserving. The laboratory has been well-equipped for studying and doing research. Besides, enthusiasm of supervisor and students will help me complete my study and research well.

Furthermore, I also took part in activities of culture, sports and tourism held by faculty and university. Moreover, I had a chance to make friends and communicate with numerous international students. During staying and studying time in Thailand, I have enjoyed from happiness to difficulty, from chance to challenge. It is interesting to learn a new language.
